HERE'S the POINT!

By SPENCE HELD

Did you ever hear of a place called Mulege in Baja California, where the snook and rooster fish abound?

Raymond Spencer, owner of Raymond's House of Beauty on Bacon St.; Ted White Jr. of Bacon St. Furniture, and Ron Chaney of Brawley, went down there for the fishing recently. (Chaney, son of Lon Chaney Jr., spends a lot of time in the Point Loma area.)

Mulege, on the Gulf of California, is about half-way to La Paz, according to Ray Spencer. He and the others were there from May 6 to 15.

"We flew down to Santa Rosalia, a copper mining town, and then traveled by car 43 miles over a rough road to Mulege," he said. "This is surrounded by desert but it's a tropical oasis because of the beautiful river running into the Gulf there."

Spencer said the town has about 900 people, almost all Mexicans, who live in thatched houses . . . The Mulege Club, a hunting and fishing resort where the visitors stayed, is an adobe structure, spotless inside and with excellent accommodations.

* * *

"There's no night life," he said. "It's a good place to rest and one of the finest fishing spots I ever saw. There's a prison on a hill where they let everybody out except thieves during the day and then lock 'em all up again at night."

Renting a pongo (canoe), they caught more than 30 species of fish, including rooster, pompano, cabrillo, giant grouper and snook.

The snook (in the river) looks like a big pike and is fast and vicious. It has a little bone plate on the side of its head, with a saw-toothed edge sharp as a razor.

When a snook was hooked he would jump, twist the line over the plate and cut it. "He cut steel leaders right off," said Spencer. "I got a 10-pounder but we didn't land any big ones—nobody ever has. They go as high as 75 pounds, however.

A native speared a snook one night from a boat—it pulled him overboard. People came running, dogs barked and roosters crowed, although it was early evening. "The roosters crow all night," he said.

* * *

Out in the Gulf the White-Spencer-Chaney trio encountered the rooster fish. This gets its name from the large comb-like dorsal fin sticking up 10" or so.

They'd hook a rooster and it would tow the canoe two or three miles until it became tired; they got 17 in two days.

One day a rooster towed them a couple of miles and then they hooked a manta ray about seven feet wide that towed them back almost to the river's mouth.

"We shot a spear into the manta and he got angry," said Spencer. "So I cut the line and let him go, as he was capable of upsetting the boat."

A manta, Ray?

'Three Out Of 229 Were Willing'

Editor: Teenagers were turned away from their usual Thursday night dance May 16 because there were not enough adults there to chaperon.

The adult committee has tried desperately to hold the "Teen Towners" together since last November, when it was announced by the Ocean Beach Community Center that the dances would have to be closed due to the lack of adult help.

The city requires at least six adults to chaperon these dances. Six mothers and fathers of the teenage members are asked to accompany their youngsters to the Community Center and to sit there while these young people enjoy themselves for one hour and a half.

In order for a teenager to join this dance club he must fill out an application, take that application home and have his parents sign it. When parents put their signatures to that application they obligate themselves to serve, at least once in eight weeks, as chaperones. This provision is a part of the application itself. In signing they accept this responsibility.

Still they will not come.

Where are those people who condemn the teenagers of our community? Where are the mothers who write irate letters to our local newspapers because of the lack of activities available to their sons and daughters? Where are the parents of this community who are so willing to criticize its leadership?

There were 229 parents of the 8th and 9th grade members of the Teen Towners contacted by telephone during a 24-hour period; of these 229 only three mothers were willing to spend 1½ hours for the benefit of their own children. What can the community say to those odds?

In the next three months the papers will be full of reports on juvenile delinquency and everyone will wonder what has happened to our younger generation. The younger generation is not to blame.

Our young people have lost their faith. Not their faith in God, but their faith in adults and the so-called adult world. They can no longer believe in the adult who promises them so much and delivers so little.

MRS. C. D. WILCOX,
Teen Towners Chairman.

Cub Scouts Aid Children's Hospital Fair

Looking for a "project of service to the community" led 8 Point Loma area boys to the Cub Cart Project they have worked on for this Saturday's Children's Hospital Fair.

Set for 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at Town and Country Hotel, the event is sponsored by the Womens' Auxiliary, Childrens Hospital. Proceeds will go to a fund earmarked for construction of a new hospital wing.

The boys, all 10½ years of age, are members of Cub Pack 554, Den No. 4. During the past three months, in weekly supervised work sessions, the youngsters have turned out 25 small wooden carts to be used as flower or snack containers for patio tables.

Another 25 have been fashioned with long handles to be used as pull toys for small children. And on Saturday, the boys will be on hand to sell the carts at their fair booth.

The Den Mothers who have been in charge of the work sessions are Mrs. Milton Cheverton and Mrs. Thomas Cunningham. The boys are Bob Cheverton, Brian Craig, Tom Cunningham, Jimmy Carl, Philip Rosenbaum, Stephen Merhar, Stephen Lamott and Lloyd Uber.

All will receive their Weblo Award for working on the Fair project, it was said. The award is highest award in cub scouting.

The Cub Cart Booth is one of 39 booths at the fair, which will be brimming with an endless variety of merchandise and food, both to eat on the spot and take home. For those planning to make a day of it, luncheon will be served at poolside French Sidewalk Cafe and light refreshments will be available at a Snack Bar and a Milk Bar.

Continuous entertainment will be offered for children plus a variety of attractions appealing to all members of the family.

Loma Portal Girl Displays Dolls At Education Center

Nancy Breitenbach, 6th grade student at Loma Portal School, has on display at the Education Center the twelve 6-inch dolls which she has dressed in authentic Indian costumes.

Her collection includes an Aztec ruler in procession, two papooses, and representatives of American natives from the Northwest Coast, the Southwest, the Plains, and the Woodland tribes.

"I didn't help Nancy at all," says her mother. "Her allowance wasn't enough for the dolls, materials, and reference books too, so between Christmas gifts of books, and dolls for her birthday, plus sales at the yardage stores, Nancy managed. She did all her own research, planning, and the actual making of the costumes."

Among Nancy's references were Prescott's "Conquest of Mexico," and "Indians of the Americas," published by the National Geographic Society.

Here's How To Water Your Lawn And Save Water During Summer

The horticultural subcommittee of the county-wide Don't Waste Water Campaign this week released suggestions on how to save water, money and gardens during the warm summer months ahead.

Allen Perry, Park Superintendent, said application of a few common sense rules would help gardeners preserve lawns and shrubs, cut down on water bills and conserve water for drought-stricken areas of the county.

"As the summer progresses," Perry said, "we can expect water use to rise with the temperature. With little or no rain forthcoming, our only surplus water can come from conservation."

Some of the suggestions of the subcommittee follow:

1. Water at night when it will do the most good. Don't let the sun evaporate valuable water.
2. Water less frequently but more thoroughly. One good soaking is worth half a dozen light waterings.
3. Sweep down paths and steps instead of hosing them off.
4. Wash tools in a bucket of water instead of using a hose.
5. Cultivate around plants and shrubs to allow water to sink in rather than run off.
6. Check all faucets, valves and hose connections to eliminate water-wasting drips.

Perry said these suggestions already have been put in use by San Diego's Park and Recreation Department. He said they are equally applicable for home, commercial and public horticultural operations.

The Don't Waste Water Campaign is working among county residents to save 10 billion gallons of water this year to offset anticipated drought conditions in county areas.

She escaped from behind the Iron Curtain in 1955 and has become the most publicized skating star since Sonja Henie.

Co-stars of the show will be Larry Ellis, who sings as well as skates, and George Arnold, skater, actor and producer of Rhythm on Ice.

Infield Grass Course To Be Ready For Del Mar's 18th Summer Season

DEL MAR—A spectacular infield turf course, now nearing completion, will be ready for the July 24 opening of Del Mar's 18th summer season, it was announced by President and General Manager Don Smith.

The course, which follows the main dirt track adjacent to the inner rail, measures just 374 feet less than one mile. A 660-foot straightaway chute placed diagonally from the far turn to a point in front of the grandstand will enable Del Mar to program races of a mile and one furlong on the new grass course.

It will give spectators a dramatic view of racing action as a field gallops straight toward the stands before swinging onto the oval part of the grass track, and makes the Del Mar course unique in American racing.

With the addition of the new course, Del Mar becomes the second racetrack in the Far West to present grass racing. Santa Anita Park pioneered turf course racing in California four years ago and its acceptance by racing fans and horsemen was immediate and overwhelming.

"We earnestly believe the infield turf course will prove a big hit with our patrons," Smith commented. "After all, racing is a form of entertainment and the grass track will enable Del Mar to diversify its program.

O.B. Pen Women Meet May 28

All writers, artists and musicians in the San Diego area are invited to attend the May meeting of the League of American Pen Women, Ocean Beach Branch, Tuesday, May 28, at 7:30 p.m. in the O. B. Woman's Club, 2160 Bacon St., according to Mrs. Albert Munchiando, president.

Winifred Bell Fletcher, of Riverside, national drama chairman, author and playwright, will be the speaker. Her topic is "How to Make Your Play Perk."

Bible Comment:

Lying Speeches of False Prophets Vanish With Death

THE false prophet is exposed by the quality of his life. He professes to stand in God's counsel, but he has not turned from evil himself. He has not tried to dissuade the people from their evil ways.

The true prophet is morally upright.

The false prophet is the prophet of the immediate and the expedient. Jeremiah charges that this type has a limited view of God. His God is an immediate and a temporary one. As Jeremiah puts it, "Am I a God at hand, saith the Lord, and not a God afar off?"

The amazing thing about the true prophets of Israel was that they had a world vision. They prophesied to a small people in a small land.

There were no printing presses or radio to carry their messages abroad. Yet, though they spoke to their own people and in their own time, they are well known today. They dealt so with moral and spiritual values and with eternal principles that their words apply with keen insight and terrible force to our own world.

No false prophet in any age has lasted beyond his own time. He is gone with the falseness of the time to which he pandered.

The false prophet says pleasant and easy things. They err, as Jeremiah says, by their lies and their lightness. But God's word, as spoken by the true prophet, is like a fire and like a hammer.

There is something stern and terrible about truth, just as there is power in it to save men from the falseness of life. God's mercy must be strong to overcome God's judgments. The true prophet never minimizes the one or the other.

It is the mark of the true prophets of God that they speak to men in every age and under all conditions.

HEALTH FOR ALL

The dancer whirling across the stage certainly proves that the feet can be faster than the eye. But did you know that science has also learned from her basic facts about the human eye?

Why doesn't the spinning ballerina get dizzy? Analyzing her movements in a pirouette scientists noted that she focuses or "spots" on a distant object before starting to turn. With each turn, she wists her body as far as possible, keeping her eyes focussed the object. Then she snaps her head around to re-focus on her point of reference. So she can spin round and round and never lose her balance.

For a more careful scientific observation, the scientists put her in a rotating chair equipped with all kinds of gadgets to test responses during and immediately after rotation.

When the ballerina was told to "spot" she had hardly any reaction. But when she did not, her eyes jerked haphazardly while the chair spun, and when it stopped she was dizzy.

The same test was given many other people—some who were blind and some with only partial defects of vision. The result of all this whirling has been a reliable clinical test by which a doctor can distinguish between psychic and organic blindness.

Ballerinas, rats, mice, guinea pigs, monkeys, penitentiary prisoners, rabbits, fruit flies—they all have made their contribution to science. New discoveries in medicine can't be used to help you and me until they've been proved harmless on different kinds of animals and finally on human volunteers.

The next time the doctor gives you a diagnostic test or a shot of vaccine or a prescription for an antibotic, give a grateful thought to the thousands of animals and self-sacrificing human beings who have helped to make these miracles of medicine possible.

Former Pastor Back From Africa

The Rev. and Mrs. L. Wayne Turner, formerly of the Ocean Beach Assembly of God Church, Cape May and Ebers, have returned from Africa where they were engaged in missionary work.

They will speak at both 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. services this Sunday, May 26, according to the Rev. George Branch, pastor.

Pictures in color depicting the strange customs of some of the most primitive people in Africa will be shown.

The Turners, with their two sons, now 7 and 15 years old, resigned their pastorate here five years ago to take up missionary work in Togo and Dahomey, French West Africa.

The public is invited Sunday, according to Rev. Branch.

Poliomyelitis Temple Topic

"Poliomyelitis" will be the topic of W. B. Oster, M.D., over radio KGB (1360 kc.) this Saturday at 7:30 p.m. direct from the Masonic Temple, 1711 Sunset Cliffs Blvd.

"Following this health lecture by Dr. Oster," states Evangelist R. E. Delafield, "the evangelistic sermon will deal with the subject of concern to all, 'Where are the Dead? And is Hell burning Now?'

" 'The Mark of the Beast' is the topic for Sunday evening's closed-door lecture," continued Delafield, "and admission is by ticket which can be obtained free at the Temple on Saturday evening, or just before the meeting on Sunday evening at the doors as they are available."

"In the 'jury trial' of the past Saturday night," concluded Delafield, "of all the votes cast by the special jury of twelve and the general jury of the entire audience, only two negative votes were cast, showing conclusively that 'Mr. X' was guilty of tampering with the law of God and changing the Sabbath of the Fourth Commandment."

The public is invited to these services.

St. Peter's Sets Victory Dinner

A Victory Dinner, celebrating completion of the ten-day Expansion Building Fund Canvass, will will be held tonight at St. Peter's by-the-Sea Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Final amount to be raised by the 100-day pledges will be announced this evening as the climax of the all-out canvassing done by the men of the church during the past two weeks. Wendell Stewart, Canvass Committee Chairman, will tell the assembled congregation the grand total of the pledging, which had reached $38,000 by last Sunday morning's service.

The united efforts of all the ladies of the Church have accomplished the Victory Dinner, a covered-dish dinner under the leadership of Mrs. Ronald Blair. Her assistants, who have served as hostesses throughout the canvass, have been working with Mrs. Egon Mueller, hostess chairman, and Mrs. John Hauser, arrangements chairman.

Junior Girls of St. Peter's will serve at the family supper tonight and the Rev. Vlad P. Benko "will point out the spiritual growth of members through the opportunity for giving to the church," it was announced.

League Of Women Voters To Meet

"The Conservation of Water Resources" is the discussion topic for the season's final unit meeting of Point Loma's day unit, League of Women Voters. Mrs. F. Wright McConnell will be hostess at her home, 2945 Kellog St., Tuesday, May 28 at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. George Nicoloff, discussion leader, and Mrs. Ira Ward, resource, will explain the role of the many Federal agencies concerned with water conservation.

HERE'S WHY THE REVOLVING AGITATOR LAUNDROMAT® IS BEST!

Washes Cleaner!
Laundromat has no center-post. Clothes go inside Revolving Agitator which lifts and plunges them 50 times a minute; washes all the clothes, constantly.
THE SAND TEST PROVES IT!

Summer Flowering Evergreens

Summertime in California means outdoor living time. All over the state families will be eating, playing and relaxing in their backyards and on their patios while enjoying the companionship of summer blooming plants. Among the loveliest of summer flowering plants are the evergreen vines that can be planted to give shade, protection from wind and beauty all in one, says the California Association of Nurserymen.

The Trumpet vines include a variety of flowering evergreens suitable for planting throughout most of California although few are hardy where temperatures fall below 24 degrees. The Blood-Red Trumpet Vine (Phaedranthus Buccinatorius or Bignonia cherere) is a fast-growing plant with glossy deep green foliage and flowers in graduations from yellow to rose-red.

Once this vine is established, it's a strong, high growing climber; plant it in the sun against a wall or high trellis. Prune each year to keep under control; feed and water generously.

Violet or pale lavender trumpets appear on the Violet Trumpet Vine (Clytostoma Callistegioides or Bignonia violacea) in early spring and the middle of summer. Its foliage is a dark glossy green. The Violet Trumpet Vine is strong-growing and needs support on a wall. It can be grown in sun or part shade and should be treated as a perennial in colder climates.

The Bougainvillea is one of the more popular of evergreen flowering vines. Its height of blooms comes in July; there are varieties blooming in shades of purple, red, magenta, scarlet—all brilliant and eye-catching. The Bougainvillea is strong-growing and will twine to 20 feet. Plant this vine against a warm wall; control it with pruning and feed generously.

One of the most flowering vines is the Gold Coast Jasmine (Jasmine dichomum which grows rapidly in sun or part shade. This Jasmine has thick, glossy leaves and fragrant clusters of white flowers that open at night in June.

Bright yellow fragrant flowers are borne on the Italian Jasmine (Jasmine humile) from July to September. It will do well in sun or part shade; the willowy shoots reach to 20 feet and can be arched or trained as a shrub.

Masses of brilliant blue bells cover the Australian Bluebell Creeper (Sollya Fusiformis) through most of the summer. This vine grows as a low climber or trailing shrub and does well in full sun or part shade in coastal area, part shade inland. It should be watered generously.

Plant the Australian Bluebell Creeper in a pot or tub placed on a wall so its branches can spill down. It can also be attractively grown as a grown cover.

The raccoon, according to the National Automobile Club, is one of the few American mammals that has no living relative in the Old World.

Short 'Beauty Break' Helps Office Efficiency

BY EDNA MILES

TO keep neat and well groomed on the job in an office, a girl should take a beauty break once a day. Don't stretch this beauty break into half an hour or take it at a time when there's something important your boss wants you to do.

Work it in wherever you can, close to the time when you're feeling smudged from carbons and your lipstick is peeling off. When your appearance is neat and fresh once more, you'll feel and be more efficient.

Check up on stocking seams; make good use of a clothes brush; freshen your make-up and use a small pocket hairbrush to get your hair in shining order. Finish up with a thorough hand washing, using a nail brush to rout that office grime.

Final step should be a hand lotion that contains silicone, one that will prevent rough, chapped skin. Use it generously and don't forget your elbows.

Make this part of your daily routine but streamline the whole operation to under 10 minutes. Then your boss will have no need to suggest daily "work breaks."

Using a hand lotion should be part of every working girl's daily beauty break. You'll feel and work better.

Santa Fe

Santa Fe and Electronics

New electronic methods keep constant check on all freight cars moving over Santa Fe rails

New electronic wonders are contributing to precision railroading on the Santa Fe.

Take freight car locating, for instance. With our Red Ball service, we can "put the finger" any time on any one of many thousands of freight cars moving over the 13,150 miles of Santa Fe rails every day.

Information on these cars is recorded on cards which are fed into electronic machines. These "electronic brains" process the cards as fast as 2,000 per minute—and tell us within a few seconds where every car is, what it contains, where it is going.

This information is immediately available for our customers. Shippers of produce may take advantage of any changing market conditions and divert their shipments while en route to other points where markets may be more favorable.

With this advice, consignees know in advance the time of arrival of their shipments. This facilitates their plans for delivery of shipments or scheduling of production.

This method of locating freight cars is only one of the many electronic tools now employed by Santa Fe. Some of the others are microwave, two-way radio, and supersonic rail detectors.

Something new in the science of railroading is a daily objective on the Santa Fe—the railroad that's always on the move toward a better way.

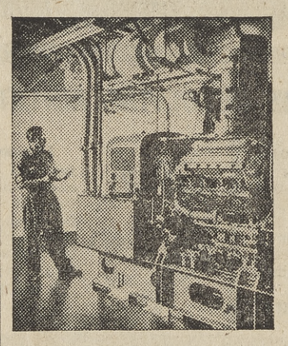
WHAT'S DOING

J. L. Webb, your Telephone Manager in San Diego

Guarding the safety of you and your family is a big part of any telephone man's job. That's why we each take a course in "defensive driving." It teaches us ways to avoid accidents—to anticipate what other drivers or pedestrians may do. It really works too. Our drivers cover millions of miles every year and chalk up one of the best safety records in the U.S. It pays off for us and our families, and for you too, for it helps make driving safer for everyone.

* * * * *



A reserve of power guards your phone service—day in and day out. Happily, storms and other emergencies don't come along often. But we keep ready anyway. Special standby generators run by gasoline or diesel engines have been provided in each telephone central office. If needed, they can take over to supply necessary power. This is one of the many ways we work to provide telephone service you can count on.

The weekly energy output of petroleum in the United States has been estimated to exceed 40 hours' work of 22 billion people. That, according to the National Automobile Club, is ten times the total population of the world.

If your car has a peculiar knocking noise when it's coasting or when the rear wheels are driving the engine, your universal joints are probably worn and need some attention, according to the National Automobile Club.

At an average rate of 30 miles per hour, points out the National Automobile Club, it would take an automobile more than 11 years to travel over the 3,012,520 miles of rural roads in the United States today.

A total of 66,875,000 motor vehicles, with a wholesale value of $95,800,000,000, have been produced and sold in the United States during the 10 years since 1947, reports the National Automobile Club.

Machines, which depend upon petroleum for their lubrication and almost three-quarters of their fuel, now do 99 per cent of the work in the United States, according to the National Automobile Club.

Gross revenues derived from the six-cent California state tax on the distribution of gasoline and other high-test motor vehicle fuel during January 1957 amounted to $23,548,487, according to the National Automobile Club.

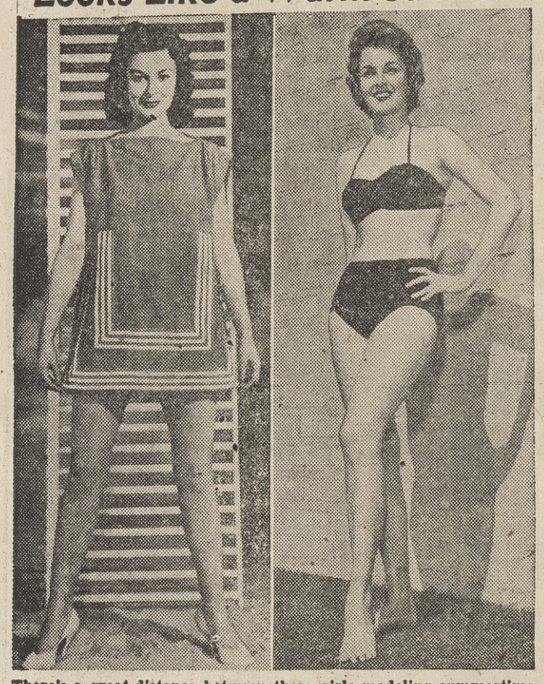
Looks Like a Warm Summer



There's a great distance between these girls modeling summertime bathing fashions. It's London on the left and Hollywood on the right.

Beach fashions, as quite a few other things, differ between Americans and their British cousins as these examples of hot-weather fashions illustrate. The Hollywood design on the right retains the simplest possible lines and American men aren't likely to complain about the lack of innovation. British reserve, on the other hand, is appealed to by this sack-like beach tunic of German design. The tunic's boxy lines are accented by straight white piping.

1st Derby Period Schedued To End Saturday Night

First of three eight-week periods of the $25,000 San Diego Yellowtail Derby will come to a close Saturday night with very strong possibilities that the closing minimum qualifying weight will be no higher than 23 pounds 8 ounces and possibly an ounce or two lower.

Although daily yellowtail catches were averaging around the 600 mark, and frequently going higher, only two or three yellows above qualifying minimum were being checked in each day. Some of them were real lunkers, however, and smallest of five prize winners of the week was a 25-13.

Prize winners included: 30-12, George Perkins, 4784 Lotus, 30-12, John Estigoy, San Diego; 30-1, Nits Murakami, Los Angeles; 28-5, Walt Kaiser, San Diego, and 25-13, Thomas Trammell, San Diego.

As the closing week of the first period began, minimum qualifying weight stood at 23-5 and the season's total of yellows was a record of 66,004.

Big white sea bass also had their innings last week and one whopping 49 pound 1 ouncer was caught by C. W. Ritz, Valley Center.

Catches at the Point Loma Kelp beds also showed improvement, with calico bass predominating but with some barracuda and white sea bass taken as well.

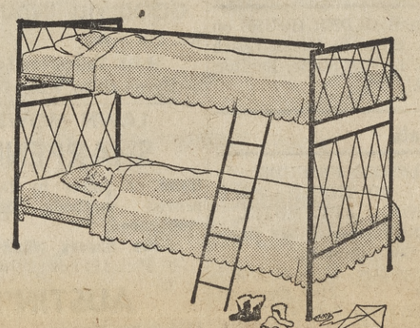
● AS A BUNK-AWAY . . .

(Pictured above) For small children, bottom bed rolls right under for extra day-time floor space. Safer sleeping, only 28 inches high to the top mattress, and the Bunk-Away can form an angle in a corner with a toy chest under one end of the higher bunk.

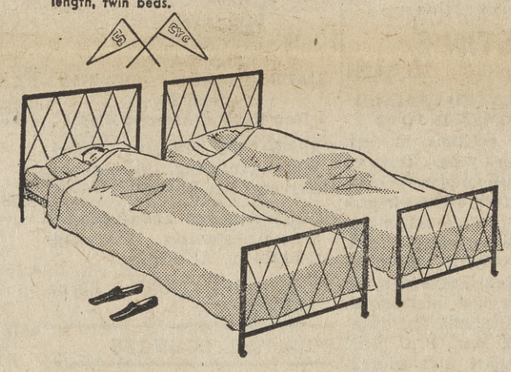
● AS REGULAR BUNK BEDS . . .

For school-age children, takes minimum space yet offers full twin-size sleeping comfort.



● AS MATCHING TWIN BEDS . . .

For teen-agers, same original beds, are easily separated and converted to standard, identical-length, twin beds.



IT'S SO EASY • Simple bolting action makes bed grow in two quick steps:

1. To make into bunk beds, lengthen shorter bed rails with adapters. Smaller bed is then placed on top of taller unit and safely bolted together.
2. To make into twin beds, leave rail extension adapters in place and match head and foot panels to create matching twin beds of equal length.
